

Why do you use a client's BMI, instead of their Body Fat Percentage to calculate discounts?

Research and data continues to prove that BMI is an important factor in driving the claims experience for different risk benefits. BMI is a simple metric that is easily, as well as objectively measurable.